Announcement of a manifestation/demonstration "Freedom not fear" [Update]

Dear Mr. Thielemans,

after having cooperative talks with Brussels Police (Mr. Claude Amrani) at 31 August 2011 here is the result of our talk. We found good agreements and I like to renew with this my announcement to you:

Together with some other European non governmental organisations and human rights groups we are planing an europewide weekend under the banner of "Freedom not fear" in Brussels from 17 to 19 of September 2011.

For more informations please have a look here or here

<http://www.freedom-not-fear.eu>

The weekend shall start with a demonstration (moving manifestation) on Saturday afternoon (maybe even some MEP's will join that walk), it continues with a Sunday of networking, workshops and lectures and ends on Monday with conference meetings with Parliamentarians and people from the European Commission, with whom we like to discuss some special topics.

I am sorry for this late announcement but I didn't know before where and whom to announce and I promise you a calm, peaceful and friendly protest march. I like to express explicitly that we do not want to disturb traffic or any other infrastructure in any way, just to give our serious concerns a clear voice.
